INTRODUCTION

Social Inclusion in Garment Footwear and Travel Goods (SITS) project works to promote and support Organizations of Persons with Disabilities (OPDs) through collaboration with local partners, aiming to strengthen capacity and address challenges faced by OPDs in Cambodia’s garment sector necessitates concerted efforts through networking, collaborations, and public-private dialogues. By pooling resources, sharing knowledge, and amplifying collective voice, these organizations can significantly impact policy changes, improve accessibilities, provide essential training opportunities, and enhance the inclusion and well-being of persons with disabilities in the garment industry.

CARE Cambodia conducted a thorough desk research to identify organizations actively supporting individuals with disabilities in Cambodia. This research involved gathering detailed information about their activities, areas of focus, approaches utilized, their beneficiaries or members, and contact details.

CARE will then organize this information in a structured format suitable for a guidebook and categorize the organizations based on their activities, areas of focus, and geographical locations for easier navigation.

ABOUT THE REFERRAL GUIDEBOOK

The referral guidebook contains detailed information about organizations dedicated to supporting persons with disabilities in Cambodia, provides insights into the organizations' activities, the specific fields they operate in, their beneficiaries or members, and relevant contact information.

This resource is designed for easy distribution to garment factories and other stakeholders, ensuring they have access to valuable information about the organizations working to enhance the lives of persons with disabilities in Cambodia.

PART I

DISABILITY-INCLUSIVE LANGUAGE

Part I: Disability-inclusive language

The language introduced in this table are suggested to use when referring to persons with disabilities to enhance disabilities inclusion in every aspect of work particularly in the textile sector. These recommended languages will help users to keep thoughts on the inclusive ways of verbal and written communication even when there is no presence of persons with disabilities. The social inclusion shifts the way we communicate in development work.

Source: These recommended languages have been prepared by the United Nations Office at Geneva as part of efforts to implement the United Nations Disability Inclusion Strategy, launched in 2019.
